

EVENTS OF INTEREST
IN SOCIAL CIRCLES

WOMAN AND THE HOME

DOMESTIC HELPS AND
AIDS TO HOUSEWIVES

The young lady across the way says the newspaper business must pay very well as one of her friends in it told her that he was paid every week instead of just once a month the way most young men are.

Writes Will Himself
On Scented Paper And
Attorneys Admire It

In the quaint old chirography of a day and generation long past, and written on paper fragrant with lavender and musk, the will of Eliza J. Jones was admitted to probate yesterday. She wrote the document herself and it is entirely free from legal phrasing. It was examined with interest by several prominent attorneys today and pronounced so clear and explicit in its provisions that the lawyers said it would stand any legal test.

Mrs. Jones was possessed of considerable real estate, all of which she leaves to her husband John H. Jones, who is named executor without bonds. She desired to give her piano to St. Luke's Sunday school, but on learning that the school has a piano she directs that the instrument be given one of the public schools. Her husband now makes his home with their daughter, Mrs. Carrie E. Russell of 88 Wentworth street. To the latter, Mrs. Jones gives her blue china.

All her jewelry, clothing, furniture and personal effects she leaves to her son, Dr. Robert H. Jones of New York to be disposed of "as he sees fit."

HORLICK'S
The Original
MALTED MILK
Unless you say "HORLICK'S" you may get a substitute.

Take Elevator to Seely's—You Save "DOLLARS"

PALM BEACH SUITS
All At $3.75SEELY'S
Women's Wear Shop
1115 MAIN ST.
Security Building, Upstairs One FlightMIDDY
BLOUSES
$1.00
EACH

THURSDAY, AUG. 12TH. ONE DAY ONLY

$1.00 Sale $1.00

OFFERING NEW SUMMER

Dresses, Coats, Waists, Skirts

Great Values All at $1.00 Each

Linene Dresses at $1.00
Striped Dresses at $1.00
Voile Dresses at $1.00
Silk Waists at $1.00
Organdie Waists at $1.00
Voile Waists at $1.00
Pure Linen Coats at $1.00

Gabardine, Poplin, Ratine, Pique

Summer Wash Skirts at $1.00

A Complete Range of Sizes on Hand in Every Garment.

Every Value is Exceptional.

SEELY'S 1115 MAIN ST.

Security Building
Upstairs
One FlightHandsome Late Summer Tailleur of Green Broadcloth

STREET COSTUME

POPE BENEDICT
WILL MAKE NEW
PLEA FOR PEACE

Rome, Aug. 11—Pope Benedict has determined to make a new appeal for peace, according to the newspaper Roma which declares the Pontiff is resolved to use every means within his power to bring about the desired result. He will ask the help of the Episcopate and, the newspaper asserts, is even considering the convocation of a universal council of the church at Rome.

The Roma, which does not give its authority, asserts that it has been informed that the Pope will forbid all representatives of the church in belligerent countries, under pain of excommunication, from offering prayers for victory, from asking blessings for the combatants or even administering the sacraments to those responsible for a continuation of the war.

The same newspaper claims to have information to the effect that the Pope has made a personal appeal to the President of the United States, the Presidents of Central and South American republics as well as to the Kings of Spain and the Scandinavian countries asking them to join with him in an effort to obtain at least a truce preparatory to the opening of peace negotiations.

AUGUST WEDDINGS

GRINDROD-MEANEY.

In St. Peter's church, yesterday, Miss Margaret Meaney, daughter of Mrs. Catherine Meaney of 81 Howard avenue, and Frank V. Grindrod of 68 Washington avenue, were married. Rev. Thomas J. Kelley, pastor of the church, performed the wedding ceremony and celebrated the nuptial mass. A few relatives and close personal friends of the couple were the witnesses.

The bride wore a suit of amethyst broadcloth, with hat to match, and bouquet of sweet peas. The bridesmaid was Miss Katherine Phelan, who wore a suit of white broadcloth with large hat and aigrettes and carried roses. The groomsmen were Joseph Meaney, a brother of the bride, After the ceremony the couple went to the bride's home where a wedding breakfast was served. Later they left Bridgeport for a honeymoon trip by automobile. They will visit the Catskill mountains and Niagara Falls before their return. They will be at home to their friends at 51 James street after September 1.

Mr. Grindrod is a buyer for Meigs & Co. He is a member of the Bridgeport lodge of Elks. Mrs. Grindrod is a milliner and hat designer, and before her marriage was employed by Dillon & Co. in Main street. Both are widely known and have a host of friends.

Woman Who Hanged
Self Had Nearly
$2,000 in Banks

An inventory of the estate of Julia Banyas, the woman who while mentally morbid hanged herself recently at Monroe, filed in the probate court shows her to have possessed $1,845.87. This is represented by equity in the little farm on which she lived with her husband, and by cash in banks. Attorney William W. Bent and Ambrose S. Hurd were the appraisers.

Says 200 Children
Will Enter School
At Walnut Beach

According to Charles L. Doherty of Walnut Beach, nearly 200 school children will enter the schoolhouse that is being completed there, when it opens in the autumn.

CELERY PLANTS
15c Per Dozen
JOHN RECK & SON

Girls Wanted

for our metal department.
Steady work. Good pay. Apply Warner Bros. Co. Employment Office.

LAURA JEAN LIBBY'S DAILY TALKS ON HEART TOPICS

Copyrighted, 1913, McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

IS LOVE A BUBBLE?

"Where wild storms have ne'er been known
The wrecks of the sea lie low and lone;
Thus the heart's surface may sparkle and glow,
There are wrecks, far down—there are graves below."

It is a very romantic maiden nowadays who will waste her precious hours thinking with lover's over some lover's inconstancy. Days are too short and each one too busy to waste in useless rethinking. The sensible-hearted girl loses no time in looking around and gaining another, who shall prove more worth the loving.

The heart throws off its woes all in good time, though in some instances there may be long delays. By patient waiting we can find what appeals to us in love's market. You cannot recall one throb of love experienced from memory's storehouse or one grief that has not been dulled, which has come to a heart from love unreturned or gone astray.

Forget our grievances, if they are not serious, which you have persistently stored up against one you were devoted to. Do not hold love to be a bubble which is easily wiped out when you know in your own mind that he who inspired true affection is the one into prominence, and this style was used here. Simulated pockets and belt and black and white checked silk collars, revers and cuffs give splendid style to the coat. The skirt is exceedingly plain, depending upon its cut and exquisite finishing for its style.

Remember that he loved you truly once, and that he may not have extinguished the flame. Be sweet, kind, and womanly, no matter where you happen to be. If he is present and you care to consider winning his best regards in the future. Do not proudly turn away and shut off all chance of his return. If it is a real affection, I agree with the words of a poem which has taken a great hold on me:

"Life without love is like day without sunshine,
Roses bereft of sweet nature's perfume;
Love is the guide mark to those who are weary
Of waiting and watching in darkness and gloom.
Life without love is like spring without flowers,
Brook streams that have not or star bereft sky.
Love creates efforts most worthy and noble,
Prompts us to live and resigns us to die."

Don't be tempted into confiding your first fears or troubles to the woman who says "I am a friend in distress." You would be astonished at the lightning-like rapidity with which the intelligence she has been supposed to keep in her bosom has traveled the length and breadth of the town. Unless you want his peace and yours to be at an end, cheat the curious gossips out of as much ridicule at your expense and his as possible.

MISS LIBBY'S REPLIES
TO YOUR LETTERS

Miss Libbey's answers to your letters. Correct name and address must be given to insure attention. Initials printed. Write short letters on one side of page only. Use ink. Personal letters cannot be answered. Address Miss Laura Jean Libbey, No. 916 President Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

MISS LIBBY'S REPLIES
TO YOUR LETTERS

My dear Gladia: I was reading by the parlor window and I was setting down the window sill after supper last night, and I looked down the street and who was treading around the corner but Gladia, looking my Sunday school teacher and a kind of a sissy the way he talked.

G. Gladia, hear kums Mr. Rockitts, I bet he's kuming to see you, I sed.

O, that pill, O, hevvin's, I'll run and hide and you can tell him I'm not here, sed Gladia.

No, that wood be lying, I sed. Yure getting mitey consciensious awl of a sudding, sed Gladia.

I'll tell him yure heer but you fell down and brook yure neck and cant see enybody awn akount of the doctors orders, I sed.

You'd do nothing of the sawt, you krazy thing, sed Gladia.

Then I'll tell him thares 4 men heer awl ready and maybe you woodent want to let eny moar in jest yet, I sed.

I bettr not trust you to tell him enything, I gess I'll haff to see him and sed Gladia.

How about if I tell him you cant find yure sh-oz, I sed.

How about if you get down awf of thare and chase yureself, sed Gladia.

Well, then, I sed, if you give me a dime I'll tell him yure not heer.

I woodent trust you to tell him a word, sed Gladia.

Good by, sed Gladia.

I'll tell him for a sent. Wich jest then Mr. Rockitts calm up and saw Gladia in the window and tipped his hat and bowed like a dood, sayings, Ah, Miss Potts, good evening.

Well, Mr. Rockitts kum rite in, I sertenay am glad to see you, sed Gladia. Sounding exactly as if she ment it, and Mr. Rockitts calm in and stayed till away aftir 10 o'clock.

National Liberal Party
Upholds The Chancellor

Berlin, Aug. 11—A meeting last night of the leaders of the National Liberal Party in Berlin expressed unanimous condemnation of intrigues against Chancellor Bethmann-Hollweg. It was declared that the attitude of opposition to the chancellor as expressed recently in certain party circles does not represent the opinion of the party as a whole. The chancellor's public statements, it was said, give no reason to suppose that he is conducting a weak Socialist policy. The meeting also declared his policy deserved full confidence.

German advertisements for foodstuffs and rubber in the Holland newspapers are being increased.

CELERY PLANTS
15c Per Dozen
JOHN RECK & SON

FORGET HER OFFER

Dear Miss Libbey:—
I am an unmarried man, own 160 acres of agricultural land in another State. I am visiting at this resort. I have frequently stated I would like to live on this land if I had a suitable companion. As a rule, marriage as viewed by myself in the homes of others appears to be a failure. My way is not clear to take the risk. Further, I know of no young lady who appealed to me. I have an old maid cousin, 20 years older than myself, who stated to me last fall she would like to keep house for me. This unexpected proposition caught me unprepared to make a reply. I made none, simply allowed her to talk on. I was an attentive listener. At last an opportunity came for me to say something along other lines. The subject was not again mentioned. I have not seen her since. She is a noble woman, has a lovely disposition, sterling character, benevolent, conscientious, trustworthy, lives a beautiful, sincere Christian life. I feel proud that she made this the only offer of the kind she ever made to me, yet I cannot accept it. She is not a good housekeeper, is only fair. I would not offend this good soul for the world. What excuse, if any, should I make? Kindly answer.

Let the offer remain unmentioned. Silence on your part will result in her forgetting what you seem unpleasant. You probably will not be settled down in a home until some young woman appeals to you. Then you will not hesitate as to the happy result, seeing your way clearly.

A FARMER'S LOVE

Dear Miss Libbey:—
Please tell me in your heart-talk what I shall do next year? Should I have been keeping company with a girl 38 years old. She is my second cousin. My parents and sisters are opposed to it. I am a farmer, but tired of the farm, want to leave it for some public works. I am very fond of the girl. Please advise me what to do regarding marriage.

Your parents have to be considered, also your sweetheart's love means much to you. Better advise with some intimate, reliable friend, ere drawing your own conclusion. Outdoors is not the best to determine, in this delicate heart affair.

THE KIND OF PAPER TO USE

Dear Miss Libbey:—
Please tell me what kind of stationery is being used now. What kind will be used in the next year? Should it be monogrammed, and would it be proper to have it perfumed just a tiny bit? I have been a constant reader and would appreciate your advice.

B. H.
Heavy cream-tinted paper with monogram in the upper left-hand corner is correct. A perfumed sachet may be placed in your writing desk, but its odor on the paper must be very elusive. Perfume offends quite as many people as it pleases among the sterner sex.

LITTLE BENNY'S
NOTEBOOK
By Lee Page

My sister Gladia was reading by the parlor window and I was setting down the window sill after supper last night, and I looked down the street and who was treading around the corner but Gladia, looking my Sunday school teacher and a kind of a sissy the way he talked.

G. Gladia, hear kums Mr. Rockitts, I bet he's kuming to see you, I sed.

O, that pill, O, hevvin's, I'll run and hide and you can tell him I'm not here, sed Gladia.

No, that wood be lying, I sed. Yure getting mitey consciensious awl of a sudding, sed Gladia.

I'll tell him yure heer but you fell down and brook yure neck and cant see enybody awn akount of the doctors orders, I sed.

You'd do nothing of the sawt, you krazy thing, sed Gladia.

Then I'll tell him thares 4 men heer awl ready and maybe you woodent want to let eny moar in jest yet, I sed.

I bettr not trust you to tell him enything, I gess I'll haff to see him and sed Gladia.

How about if I tell him you cant find yure sh-oz, I sed.

How about if you get down awf of thare and chase yureself, sed Gladia.

Well, then, I sed, if you give me a dime I'll tell him yure not heer.

I woodent trust you to tell him a word, sed Gladia.

Good by, sed Gladia.

I'll tell him for a sent. Wich jest then Mr. Rockitts calm up and saw Gladia in the window and tipped his hat and bowed like a dood, sayings, Ah, Miss Potts, good evening.

Well, Mr. Rockitts kum rite in, I sertenay am glad to see you, sed Gladia. Sounding exactly as if she ment it, and Mr. Rockitts calm in and stayed till away aftir 10 o'clock.

National Liberal Party
Upholds The Chancellor

Berlin, Aug. 11—A meeting last night of the leaders of the National Liberal Party in Berlin expressed unanimous condemnation of intrigues against Chancellor Bethmann-Hollweg. It was declared that the attitude of opposition to the chancellor as expressed recently in certain party circles does not represent the opinion of the party as a whole. The chancellor's public statements, it was said, give no reason to suppose that he is conducting a weak Socialist policy. The meeting also declared his policy deserved full confidence.

German advertisements for foodstuffs and rubber in the Holland newspapers are being increased.

CELERY PLANTS
15c Per Dozen
JOHN RECK & SON

FORGET HER OFFER

Dear Miss Libbey:—
I am an unmarried man, own 160 acres of agricultural land in another State. I am visiting at this resort. I have frequently stated I would like to live on this land if I had a suitable companion. As a rule, marriage as viewed by myself in the homes of others appears to be a failure. My way is not clear to take the risk. Further, I know of no young lady who appealed to me. I have an old maid cousin, 20 years older than myself, who stated to me last fall she would like to keep house for me. This unexpected proposition caught me unprepared to make a reply. I made none, simply allowed her to talk on. I was an attentive listener. At last an opportunity came for me to say something along other lines. The subject was not again mentioned. I have not seen her since. She is a noble woman, has a lovely disposition, sterling character, benevolent, conscientious, trustworthy, lives a beautiful, sincere Christian life. I feel proud that she made this the only offer of the kind she ever made to me, yet I cannot accept it. She is not a good housekeeper, is only fair. I would not offend this good soul for the world. What excuse, if any, should I make? Kindly answer.

Let the offer remain unmentioned. Silence on your part will result in her forgetting what you seem unpleasant. You probably will not be settled down in a home until some young woman appeals to you. Then you will not hesitate as to the happy result, seeing your way clearly.

A FARMER'S LOVE

Dear Miss Libbey:—
Please tell me in your heart-talk what I shall do next year? Should I have been keeping company with a girl 38 years old. She is my second cousin. My parents and sisters are opposed to it. I am a farmer, but tired of the farm, want to leave it for some public works. I am very fond of the girl. Please advise me what to do regarding marriage.

Your parents have to be considered, also your sweetheart's love means much to you. Better advise with some intimate, reliable friend, ere drawing your own conclusion. Outdoors is not the best to determine, in this delicate heart affair.

THE KIND OF PAPER TO USE

Dear Miss Libbey:—
Please tell me what kind of stationery is being used now. What kind will be used in the next year? Should it be monogrammed, and would it be proper to have it perfumed just a tiny bit? I have been a constant reader and would appreciate your advice.

B. H.
Heavy cream-tinted paper with monogram in the upper left-hand corner is correct. A perfumed sachet may be placed in your writing desk, but its odor on the paper must be very elusive. Perfume offends quite as many people as it pleases among the sterner sex.

LITTLE BENNY'S
NOTEBOOK
By Lee Page

My sister Gladia was reading by the parlor window and I was setting down the window sill after supper last night, and I looked down the street and who was treading around the corner but Gladia, looking my Sunday school teacher and a kind of a sissy the way he talked.

G. Gladia, hear kums Mr. Rockitts, I bet he's kuming to see you, I sed.

O, that pill, O, hevvin's, I'll run and hide and you can tell him I'm not here, sed Gladia.

WOMAN ORGANIZER DISCUSSES
A. F. OF L. PLANS FOR CITY;
MEETS MANY SLEUTHS HERE

Corset Workers and Ammunition Plant Employees Are To Be Unionized, Says Mary Scully, Just Arrived From New Jersey Labor Troubles.

Mary Scully, woman organizer of the American Federation of Labor, who has arrived in this city, has begun organization of women labor in this city under the Federal unions. She will be joined by John Roche, head of the Federal union organizers of the United States, and later it is expected that about fifteen organizers of many tongues will join the force.

The first shop that will be organized, said Miss Scully to a reporter for The Farmer who found her at the Atlantic hotel, will be the Union Metallic Cartridge company. The next and probably the most important step that will be taken in conjunction with the machinists' effort to get an eight hour day throughout Bridgeport will be in the Warner Brothers Corset factory which will be followed by the George C. Batcheller & Co. plant.

"The corset workers of this country have never been organized and as they are now under the Ladies' Garment Workers of the Federation of Labor and are not getting the hours, the pay or in any other way living up to the schedule of the ladies' garment makers they have long been a thorn in the flesh of unions in other states.

"While I have not been in this city long enough to get a comprehensive idea of the situation, I can say that I find the girls here to be working extremely long hours. They go to work at 7 o'clock while the girls in New York do not have to go to their work until 8 o'clock.

"Just what the pay at the U. M. C. company to girls I cannot find out, as those girls I have seen tell me that today is pay-day at the big plant and the day on which the promised advance wage is due. I will be able to tell tonight just what the pay may be in relation to the hours worked.

"I understand that the corset industry here is the worst as far as work and pay is concerned but I have not yet been able to get close enough in touch with the situation to make an authoritative statement.

If we organize the corset workers here, which we have no doubt will be done within a few weeks, they will all work on the 'protocol' system as is now effective in the larger cities. By this system there will be a shop chair-lady to collect fees to the union and take complaints to the proper source. The chair-ladies will be elected by the shop workers. They can be changed whenever necessary. The complaints are sure of just determination for they can be taken up by the union through the business agents and if necessary can go to a board of arbitration or even to a grievance committee formed by the unions and the Manufacturers' association with a non-partisan head selected by both. There will be no more charge for needles and thread, as I understand is sometimes the rule here.

"The particular thing I have noticed in this city is the preponderance of Burns and Pinkerton men located in the lobbies of the hotels, in the theatres, parks and about the big Remington U. M. C. plant. I have just come from Roosevelt, N. J., and I had not been in this city five minutes before I saw these detectives. Other women in Roosevelt and during five minutes in Washington park I recognized and was in turn recognized by four others who had been down there during the rioting.

Miss Scully said that she expected to remain in this city organizing the women until the entire eight-hour situation was cleared up. Other women organizers have been sent throughout New England in the campaign that is now being waged.

TODAY'S POEM

UPHILL

Does the road wind uphill all the way?
Yes, to the very end.
Will the day's journey take the whole
long day?
From morn to night, my friend.

But is there for the night a resting place?
A roof for when the slow, dark hours begin.
May not the darkness hide it from my face.
You can not miss that inn.

Shall I meet other wayfarers at night?
Those must I knock or call when just in sight?
They will not keep you standing at that door.

Shall I find comfort travelers and weary?
Of labor you shall find the sum.
Will there be beds for me and all who seek?
Yes, beds for all who come.

—Christina Rossetti.

Two French army aviators were killed at Villa Comblay, France, when the aeroplane they were making a flight in overturned in the air.

Capt. Percy A. Clive, M. P., was seriously wounded at the front in Flanders by the explosion of a mine.

WOMAN WOULD NOT GIVE UP

Though Sick and Suffering; At Last Found Help in Lydia
E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Richmond, Pa.—"When I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was in a dreadfully rundown state of health, had internal troubles, and was so extremely nervous and prostrated that if I had given in to my feelings I would have been in bed.

As it was I had hardly strength at times to be on my feet and what I did do was by a great effort. I could not sleep at night and of course felt very bad in the morning, and had a steady headache.

"After taking the second bottle I noticed that the headache was not so bad, I rested better, and my nerves were stronger. I continued its use until it made a new woman of me, and now I can hardly realize that I am able to do so much as I do. Whenever I know any woman in need of a good medicine I highly praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. FRANK CLARK, 3146 N. Tulip St., Richmond, Pa.

Women Have Been Telling Women for forty years how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored their health when suffering with female ills. This accounts for the enormous demand for it from coast to coast. If you are troubled with any ailment peculiar to women why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? It will pay you to do so. Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

CELERY PLANTS
15c Per Dozen
JOHN RECK & SON

FORGET HER OFFER

Dear Miss Libbey:—
I am an unmarried man, own 160 acres of agricultural land in another State. I am visiting at this resort. I have frequently stated I would like to live on this land if I had a suitable companion. As a rule, marriage as viewed by myself in the homes of others appears to be a failure. My way is not clear to take the risk. Further, I know of no young lady who appealed to me. I have an old maid cousin, 20 years older than myself, who stated to me last fall she would like to keep house for me. This unexpected proposition caught me unprepared to make a reply. I made none, simply allowed her to talk on. I was an attentive listener. At last an opportunity came for me to say something along other lines. The subject was not again mentioned. I have not seen her since. She is a noble woman, has a lovely disposition, sterling character, benevolent, conscientious, trustworthy, lives a beautiful, sincere Christian life. I feel proud that she made this the only offer of the kind she ever made to me, yet I cannot accept it. She is not a good housekeeper, is only fair. I would not offend this good soul for the world. What excuse, if any, should I make? Kindly answer.

Let the offer remain unmentioned. Silence on your part will result in her forgetting what you seem unpleasant. You probably will not be settled down in a home until some young woman appeals to you. Then you will not hesitate as to the happy result, seeing your way clearly.

A FARMER'S LOVE

Dear Miss Libbey:—
Please tell me in your heart-talk what I shall do next year? Should I have been keeping company with a girl 38 years old. She is my second cousin. My parents and sisters are opposed to it. I am a farmer, but tired of the farm, want to leave it for some public works. I am very fond of the girl. Please advise me what to do regarding marriage.

Your parents have to be considered, also your sweetheart's love means much to you. Better advise with some intimate, reliable friend, ere drawing your own conclusion. Outdoors is not the best to determine, in this delicate heart affair.

THE KIND OF PAPER TO USE

Dear Miss Libbey:—
Please tell me what kind of stationery is being used now. What kind will be used in the next year? Should it be monogrammed, and would it be proper to have it perfumed just a tiny bit? I have been a constant reader and would appreciate your advice.

B. H.
Heavy cream-tinted paper with monogram in the upper left-hand corner is correct. A perfumed sachet may be placed in your writing desk, but its odor on the paper must be very elusive. Perfume offends quite as many people as it pleases among the sterner sex.

LITTLE BENNY'S
NOTEBOOK
By Lee Page

My sister Gladia was reading by the parlor window and I was setting down the window sill after supper last night, and I looked down the street and who was treading around the corner but Gladia, looking my Sunday school teacher and a kind of a sissy the way he talked.

G. Gladia, hear kums Mr. Rockitts, I bet he's kuming to see you, I sed.